ΠΡΟΣΒΑΣΗ ΣΕ ΗΛΕΚΤΡΟΝΙΚΕΣ ΠΗΓΕΣ

Για να διαβάσετε ένα τεκμήριο σε ηλεκτρονική μορφή (π.χ. eBook, ακαδημαϊκό περιοδικό), πρέπει να είστε συνδεδεμένοι μέσω OpenAthens.

Αν δεν είστε συνδεδεμένοι, θα εμφανιστεί στην κορυφή της σελίδας των αποτελεσμάτων μια γκρι γραμμή με το μήνυμα: «Welcome Guest, Sign in to your Institution for full access to your Library's resources» (δείτε την εικόνα παρακάτω).

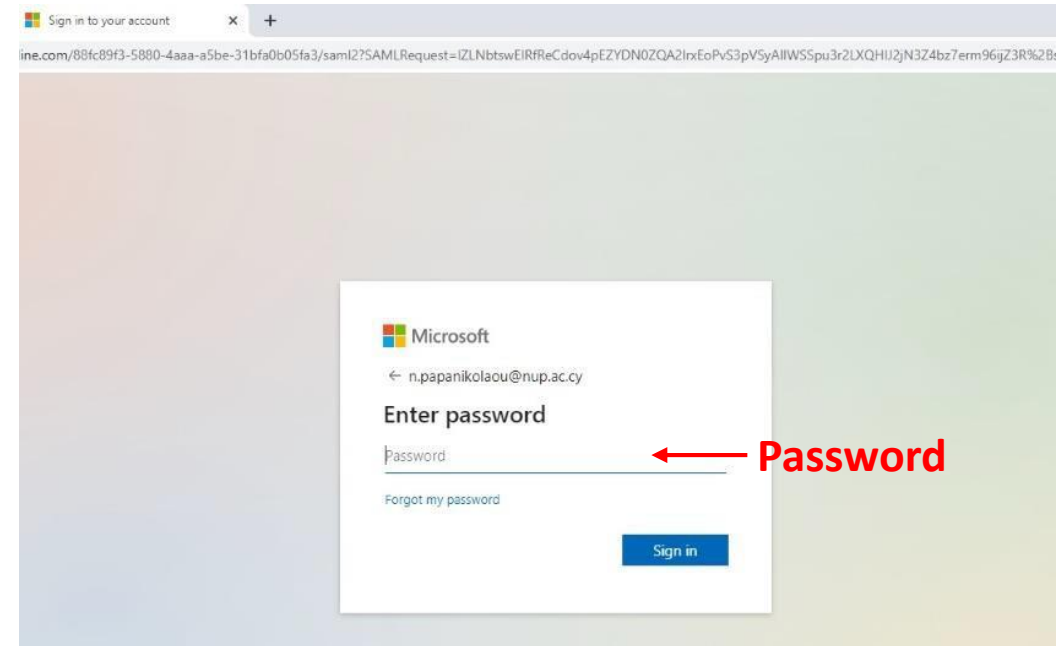

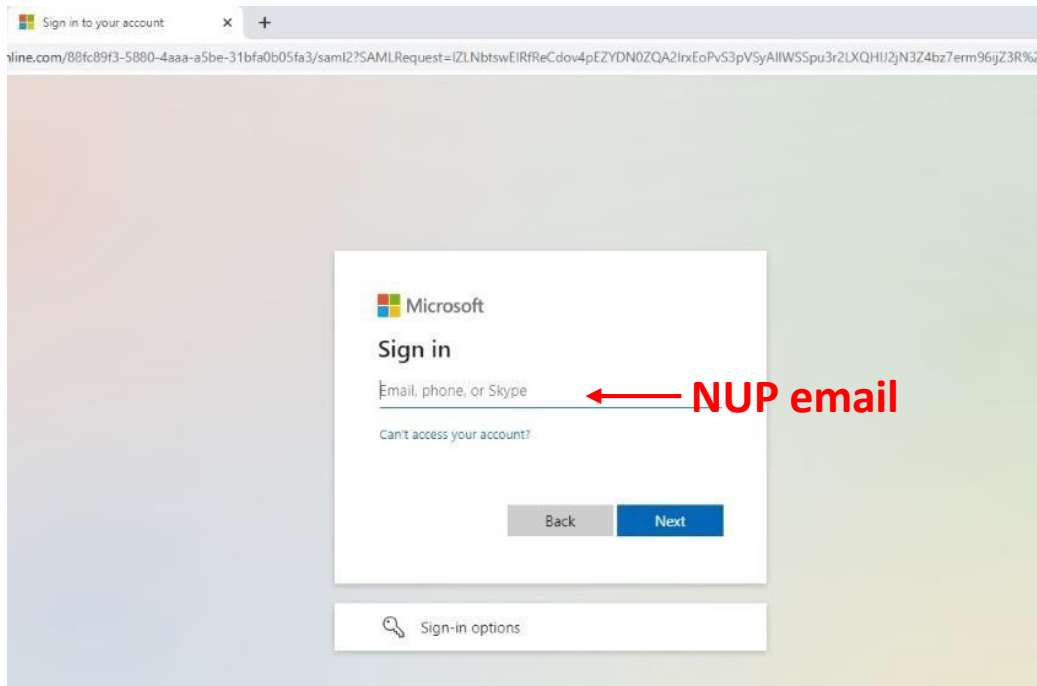

Για να συνδεθείτε, πατήστε πάνω στο μήνυμα.

The screenshot displays the library's search interface. At the top, a dark grey banner contains the message: "Welcome, Guest. Sign in to your institution for full access to your library's resources." Below this, the Neapolis University Pafos logo is on the left. The search bar contains the term "stress" and has a search icon. Below the search bar are filter buttons: "All filters (0)", "Linked Full Text", "Peer Reviewed", "All time", and "Source type". To the right is an "Advanced search" link. Below the filters, the search results are shown: "Results: 16,838,981". On the right side of the results area, there are controls for "Show: 10" and "Relevance". Two result cards are visible: a "PUBLICATION" card for "Stress: The International Journal on the Biology of Stress" and a "RESEARCH STARTER" card for "Stress." with a definition: "DEFINITION: A psychophysiological response to real or perceived pressures in the environment, including danger;".

Art activities for staff in healthcare institutions

ABSTRACT
Arts and arts-based methods are increasingly used in professional development. This study involved two artists facilitating art activities for 21 staff members from three care institutions in Finland: a nursing home, a day-care centre for individuals with dementia and an organization that supports individuals facing challenging life situations (e.g. unemployment or the need to relearn everyday skills). The primary objective was to enhance work satisfaction and well-being among staff members. Initially, the staff members displayed scepticism towards art activities, but their attitudes became more positive as they engaged in the artistic process. Interviews revealed that the activities positively impacted group spirit, improved individual well-being and inspired the staff to explore new methods in their professional roles. Many participants suggested that art activities could be structured

The screenshot shows a web browser displaying an academic article. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'Art activities for staff in healthcare institutions.' and includes a 'Download' button. A warning banner at the top states: 'This content may contain URLs/links that would redirect you to a non-EBSCO site. EBSCO does not endorse the accuracy or accessibility of these sites, nor of the content therein.' The article title is 'Art activities for staff in healthcare institutions.' The authors are listed as 'Published in: International Journal of Education through Art, Jun2024, Art & Architecture Complete' and 'By: Oinas, Niina; Huhmarniemi, Maria'. The abstract text reads: 'Arts and arts-based methods are increasingly used in professional development. This study involved two artists facilitating art activities for 21 staff members from three care institutions in Finland: a nursing home, a day-care centre for individuals with dementia and an organization that supports individuals facing challenging life situations (e.g. unemployment or the need to relearn everyday skills). The primary objective was to enhance work satisfaction and well-being among staff members. Interviews revealed that the activities positively impacted group spirit, improved individual well-being and inspired the staff to explore new methods in their professional roles. Many participants suggested that art activities could be structured into regular work supervision sessions in their workplaces. The findings highlight the importance of further investigating the benefits of having artists and artistic activities within care organizations.' The keywords are 'professional development; work supervision; community arts; arts-based methods; art-based action research; artistic interventions'. The article is divided into sections: 'Introduction', 'Artistic interventions in organizations', 'Artistic interventions in care institutions', 'Work counselling and well-being', 'ABAR and the 'WorkArt' project', 'The workshops', 'Participation and results', 'Arts-based activity outcomes', 'Discussion', 'Conclusion', 'Suggested Citation', 'Footnotes', and 'References'. A 'Table of contents' sidebar is visible on the right, listing these sections. A small logo is present in the bottom right corner of the article page.

The screenshot displays the search interface of the Neapolis University Pafos MyEBSCO system. The main search area is titled "Search articles, books, journals & more". It features three search input fields, each with a dropdown menu set to "All fields". The first field contains the word "art", the second contains "AND", and the third contains "european". A dropdown menu is open below the third field, showing suggestions: "european union", "european union or eu or europe", "european", "european countries", and "european american". The word "european" in the input field and the first suggestion are circled in red. Below the search fields, there are filter options: "Limit your results (1)", "Clear all", and checkboxes for "Linked Full Text", "Peer Reviewed", and "Catalog Only". There are also input fields for "Author" and "Title". The left sidebar contains navigation links for "My dashboard" (Overview, Projects, Saved, Searches, Viewed, Holds & checkouts, Journal alerts) and "Research tools" (New search, Publications, Concept map). The Neapolis University Pafos logo is in the top left, and the MyEBSCO logo is in the top right.

Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is for the private study, scholarship, or research of an individual user, and that the fee code of the user is recorded on the photocopy. This institution reserves the right to refuse to copy material that is protected by copyright law if it has determined that the request for copying exceeds the limits of copyright law. This institution reserves the right to refuse a copying order if, in its judgement, fulfillment of the order would result in copyright infringement.
